Yeonji is a dancer, photographer and dance teacher throughout Germany, Switzerland and South Korea. Her ground practice in her art works is based on improvisation dance. All projects in which she has been involved had particular creative processes with improvisational approaches. Each show consciously included openness to the potential of each day's changes. She gives spaces to emptiness in order to stress fullness. The human presence plays an important role for her, rather than sensual electric devices. Since 2018, she's invited as a support artist at Asia Improvisation Art Exchange through i-Dance Korea. For a new creation of the dance collective Nonstopillusion which she founded with two other colleagues, she had a residency at Hof Leesthal and currently has another residency at zoEspaces in Basel.
